

The monthly European Industrial Pharmacists newsletter • February 2018

SMART CONTROLS AND SECURITY SOLUTIONS
FOR PRODUCTION ENVIRONMENTS
WWW.DOS-DONTS.COM

Technology & Production

Exome sequencing of genetic data to speed up R&D

A new pre-competitive consortium led by Regeneron will fund the exome sequencing of the biological samples obtained from the half million volunteers adhering to the UK Biobank

Read more...

Politics & Business

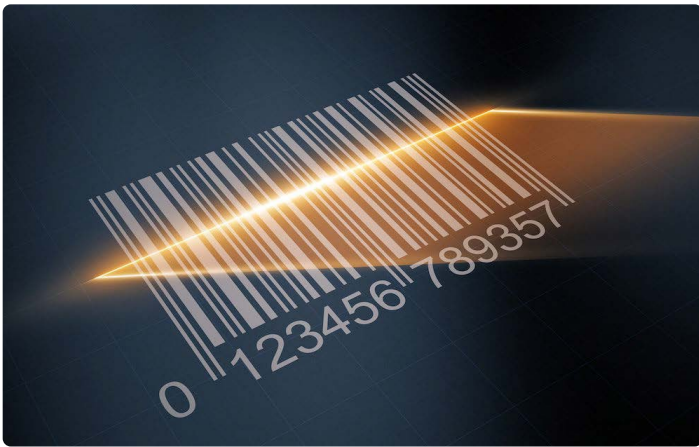

What is going on in neurosciences?

Research in Alzheimer's and Parkinson's diseases is suffering a difficult moment due to the many failures in clinical trials. While Pfizer and Merck leaved the challenge, Bill Gates invested $ 50 million in the Dementia Discovery Fund

Read more...

Regulatory

ICMRA: towards global standards for track-and-trace systems

The International Coalition of Medicines Regulatory Authorities (ICMRA) adopted new Recommendations to align track and trace (T&T) systems at the international level in order to reach interoperability

Read more...

Focus on EU's Countries

From UK: An app to measure glucose without the need of blood samples

Just place a fingertip over the camera lens of the smartphone to read glycemic levels in blood: it's the promise of a new app developed in UK by Epic Health

Read more...

News from EIPG

Monthly update from EIPG – February 2018

During the last month EIPG's representatives met the the French Ordre des Pharmaciens. Updates also from the Bureau Meeting and on the National Medicines Verification Organisation

Read more...